Potentially

If they have the same class structure

Although we do all need to get the code running on the our machines

Has everyone gotten the code to run btw?

I made a development branch with the setup done

If u have nose.js installed

If u run the command "npm start" it starts the code

Tanuki 08/18/2021
ill check it out in abit

vicarox 09/15/2021

hey guys just going over what we need to submit this weekend

Micro Services API implemented to a professional level. This may be the completion of previously-started functionality (e.g., completing integration with backend) -- for such, Testing should be complete. Features are working in both back-end and front-end properly. All features that have been promised through sprint planning of sprints 1 and 2 have been implemented and validated. Sessions have been managed through JWT.

if i make the rubric into an excel sheet or somehting can we go through and unpack what there is still to do sometime today?

yoonsus 09/15/2021
We can do that during our meeting while wewait for him!

yoonsus 09/16/2021

@Tanuki for the circleci, do we already have a config.yml?

vicarox 09/17/2021
Yes have file

@Tanuki also has the app been dockerized yet?

vicarox 09/17/2021
Not yet just gonna set up some testing through circleci

I made the file just not sure it works bc i couldn't add it to circleci
